Dignity Day Story Guide

What Does Dignity Mean to You?

Have a Senior Moment with Your Kids!

GLOBAL DIGNITY

Everybody has a unique dignity story about a person, event or place. As part of Global Dignity Day Canada, we're asking you to submit your dignity day story to share with students and youth across Canada and from around the world.

By sharing our stories, we hope we can better understand each other, our experiences and why it's important to live with mutual understanding, respect and compassion for ourselves and everyone around us. Please follow the guidelines below to submit your unique story and share what dignity means to you!

1. THEMES

Within the "Many Faces of Dignity" framework, we're cultivating engagement and action through four main pillars, including: Arts and Media; Healthy Living and Recreation; Community Building; and Sharing Food: Celebrating Life.

Two of these lend themselves to the creation and sharing of Dignity Day stories that you can submit to be shared in a new online gallery hosted at www.globaldignity.ca

a) Arts & Media – "What Does Dignity Mean to You?" – this is an open-ended theme for you, and

b) Community Building – "Have a Senior Moment with Your Kids"

Pick one or both!

WHAT DOES DIGNITY MEAN TO YOU?

Consider what dignity means to you. Can you think of any stories that come to mind? If not, do you have any pictures that you think have dignity in them? Or could you paint a picture of what dignity looks like? Put your creative energies to work through video, writing, visual arts, social media, and more.

HAVE A SENIOR MOMENT WITH YOUR KIDS!

*Our Elders and seniors have stories to tell.
They have memories to recount.*

As part of Global Dignity Day Canada, we're encouraging you to "Have a senior moment with your kids!" This is one example of how to share a dignity day story. Your students can create and submit a dignity day 'story' to share with students and other youth across Canada and from around the world. As with any other theme you may choose, we encourage you to use many different forms of expression to tell these stories.

By sharing our stories, we demonstrate appreciation, respect and honour for the elderly members of our communities. Their lives have touched many and we want you to capture significant moments in their lives by meeting with an elderly person you know or by meeting someone you haven't known before.

Guidelines

Below is a guideline to create and submit your unique dignity story in line with the theme of sharing a senior moment:

- 1) Meet with an elderly relative or friend. This could also be an opportunity to meet a new elderly person in your community – through a place of worship or community centre. Develop a relationship with that individual.

- 2) Through relationship and conversation, determine what is of significance to the senior.
What was a most significant point in their life? What memory do they hold dear?
- 3) Capture the 'story' with the tools you need in order to create your chosen method - if you are writing a story, have pen and paper or a computer. If you choose to use visual arts or video, have your tools ready! (see Possible Story Formats below for suggestions).
- 4) Create your dignity day story in one of the formats below. Ask a friend, parent or teacher if you have questions or if you need help.

2. GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

Submission Guidelines (for teachers, youth leaders & parents or students 18 years or older)
